

1. Background

The history of the Brazil-Japan relation

Brazil - Japan agricultural relations

1. Japanese immigration in the early twentieth century:

- The introduction of the horticulture
- The creation of the "green belts"
- Stimulating the Cooperative movement
- 2.Brazil's Cerrado Development Programme (PRODECER).
- 3.Next step: increase cooperation with other countries (Africa, Asia, etc.)

2. Mozambique - Nacala Corridor Fund

マスタープランは現地小農のためでなく、投資の為と書かれている

- The Master Plan for the Nacala Corridor is a road map for public and private investor for the agricultural development of the Nacala Region.
- It has been executed by FGV together with Japanese and Mozambican partners and its main objective is to formulate a Master Plan that engages public/private investment and promote sustainable production systems and poverty reduction.

3. Nacala Fund – Guidelines

Increasing Brazil-Japan Cooperation with other countries

Mozambique - Nacala Fund Guidelines

ブラジル=日 本の協力と

1.Area: The Nacala Corridor contains more than 10 million hectares of good farming land. The project shall contemplate about 356.000 hectares for agricultural production in the first 3 years.

2. Production: the production shall include, in the first stage, soybean, corn, cotton and rice.

3.Employment: the project estimates to create more than 4.000 new jobs in the first phase (agricultural production, inputs production and logistics operation).

4.Infrastructure: The partners - Mozambique, Brazil and Japan - will help Mozambique upgrade its infrastructure, to make it easier for farmers to export their goods.

5.Promoting productive arrangements through association, cooperatives and consortium - the model includes local small farmers via cooperatives (Prodecer) and/or Mozambicans and international investors into export-oriented agriculture value chains. 大豆・メイズ・綿花・米の輸出志向型

4. Nacala Fund - Investments

The FUND objective is to invest private equity growth capital to develop and operate own plantation, processing, trading and logistic companies to grow, process and supply agricultural products to local, regional and global export markets.

The NACALA CORRIDOR FUND will start its operations exclusively with annual crops: rice, soy, corn and cotton, and might over time expand into other, including perennial, crops.

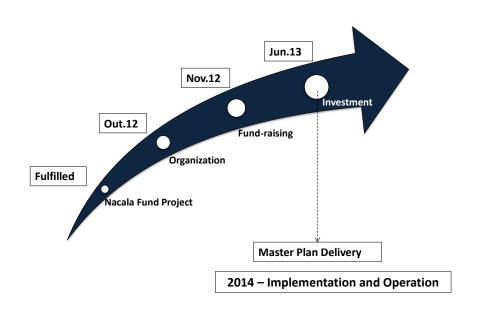

Nacala Fund is expected to attract investment of US$2 billion to promote technical knowledge exchange between Brazil and Japan for development of agriculture in Mozambique – US$ 500 million in the initial phase.
